VOL. XI., No. 19.

NEW YORK, May 12, 1877.

WHOLE No. 278.

Finance, Currency, and Banking.

THE EXAMPLE OF FRANCE: Two Essays on the Payment of the Indemnity and the Management of the Currency since the German War, 1870-'74. By Victor Bonnet. Translated from the "Revue des Deux Mondes," by George Walker. Paper covers, 50 cents.

PAPER-MONEY INFLATION IN FRANCE: How it Came, What it Brought, and How it Ended. A Paper read before several Senators and Members of the House of Representatives, of both political parties, at Washington, April 12, and before the Union League Club, at New York, April 13, 1876. By Andrew D. White, LL.D., President of Cornell University. 50 cents.

NOMISMA ; or, "Legal Tender." By Henri Cernuschi, author of "Bi-Metallic Money." One vol., 12mo, cloth, $1.25.

The principal part of the information contained in this volume was given by the author, before a commission appointed by Congress, for the purpose of ascertaining whether it was feasible for the United States to introduce a Bi-Metallic Standard of Gold and Silver.

The author is an authority on finance in France, and his information is given in a clear and intelligible form, which cannot fail to be very convincing.

CURRENCY AND BANKING. By Bonamy Price, Professor of Political Economy in the University of Oxford. One vol., 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

"His discussion on the subject of currency is very clear and satisfactory, as well as timely."—New Englander.

"The idea that the government stamp on the coin gives to money its value, he disposes of in a sentence, yet it is a large part of the money argument."—Hartford Courant.

"The author puts forth views as to the mode of resuming specie payments in this country without dogmatism and with common-sense."—Evening Mail.

"This is probably the best and most lucid work on the subject."—Sunday Herald, Washington.

MONEY AND THE MECHANISM OF EXCHANGE. By W. Stanley Jevons, Professor of Logic and Political Economy in the Owens College, Manchester. One vol., 12mo, cloth, $1.75.

"Mr. Jevons's valuable book ought to be read by every statesman, legislator, and journalist in the United States, who undertakes to discuss the monetary problems of the time."—International Review.

"Professor Jevons's work is of the greatest value, and no thinker who cares for his reputation will be willing to leave it unread."—Hartford Post.

"His work is properly written, and every page is replete with solid instruction of a kind that is just now lamentably needed by multitudes of our people who are victimized by the grossest fallacies."—Popular Science Monthly.

WEIGHTS, MEASURES, AND MONEY OF ALL NATIONS. Compiled by F. W. Clarke, Professor of Physics and Chemistry in the University of Cincinnati. One vol., 12mo, $1.50.

"We commend this carefully prepared and convenient volume to all persons who wish to acquire information on the subject of which it treats."—Boston Globe.

"The work necessary to the production of this little volume has been judiciously planned and skilfully executed."—Chicago Tribune.

"THE EASTERN QUESTION."

THREE LITTLE BOOKS FULL OF INFORMATION.

THE EASTERN QUESTION

Historically considered; with Notes on the resources of Russia and Turkey, and an abstract of their Treaties with the United States. By JAMES M. BUGBEE. With two fine Maps. Price, in cloth, 50 cents; paper, 25 cents.

In this timely book, Mr. Bugbee gives just the information everybody desires, for a satisfactory understanding of the causes of the war now begun between Russia and Turkey. It is a compendious and very clear narrative of the previous relations between these two countries, and of the treaties and combinations employed to keep the peace between them; so that the reader has in a nutshell the facts necessary to a comprehension of the points at issue, and how they have been brought into issue.

The present government of each country is described, with its resources and its capacity for war.

The treaties made between these countries and the United States are summarized.

This little book, full of compact and luminous information, and supplied with good maps, is emphatically a book for the hour.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF THE TURKS.

From the German of Dr. JOHANNES BLOCHWITZ. With two excellent Maps and Notes. Price, in cloth, 50 cents; paper, 25 cents.

This timely little volume contains in a very clear and interesting narrative the growth of the Ottoman Empire from its rise, through all the stages of its development and decline, to the outbreak of the present war. The whole is presented in a compact and convenient form, and in an entertaining and readable style. The Maps are from the latest authorities; and the Notes explain the meaning of many Turkish words that are met with more or less constantly in all accounts of Eastern affairs.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF RUSSIA.

With two fine Maps. Price, in cloth, 50 cents; paper, 25 cents.

In a compact form this "Brief History of Russia" presents those facts about the Russian people and empire which everybody just now desires to know. The history of the successive dynasties is succinctly related in connection with the extension in territory, and the advance in civilization made by the empire. The important social and political changes that have occurred within the present century, and especially the circumstances of the Crimean war, and the chain of events that have led Russia to declare war against Turkey, are presented with clearness and precision. Excellent maps add to the value of this timely book.

SAMUEL BRECK,

With Passages from his Note-Books (1771-1862). Edited by H. E. Scudder.

Samuel Breck has been justly called the "American Pepys." There are nowhere else such pleasant pictures of American Society in the post-revolutionary period as are given in this book. The descriptions of Washington and his mode of life while President; of distinguished Americans, such as Robert Morris, Bishop White, the Bingham, Hamilton, Quincy Adams, John Randolph, and others; and those of the Duke of Orleans, Joseph Bonaparte, De Noailles, Francis Jeffrey, Mirabeau, Talleyrand, and other foreigners, whom he met here or abroad, are charming.

NOW READY, THE SECOND EDITION OF MARTINEAU'S HISTORY OF ENGLAND.

NEW BOOKS.

- 1. The Library Edition of the Complete Works of Robert Burns. Illustrated with portraits, engravings on steel and wood, after Alex. Nasmyth, Sam Bough, R.S.A., Sir William Allan, P.R.S.A., Clark Stanton, A.R.S.A., etc.; fac-similes from original MSS., colored maps, music, etc. Edited, with notes and glossary, by W. S. Douglas, with an essay on the genius of Burns, by Prof. Nichol, Glasgow. To be completed in six vols., 8vo. Vol. I. now ready, 8vo, cloth, $5. A limited impression on large paper, with India proof plates, per vol., $10.

The special features of this new edition are—

The Poems and Songs will comprise many pieces which have not appeared in any edition, as well as additional stanzas to already published poems.

The Prose Works will contain a large number of important unpublished letters, besides the completion of many others hitherto printed in an imperfect form.

Whenever possible, the original MSS. have been collated, with the result that many valuable and interesting variations will here first appear.

The arrangement of the Poems and Lyrics in chronological order, detached from the letters, will be exemplified for the first time, and with the exhaustive editorial notes, will lead additional interest to the poet's life.

Words requiring definition are explained at the bottom of each page, and the original channel of publication is indicated at the head of each poem.

An index of first lines, tables of contents, and comprehensive general indexes will be furnished.

- 2. Window Gardening. The New Practical Window Gardener. Being practical directions for the cultivation of flowering and foliage plants in windows and glazed cases, and the arrangement of plants and flowers for the embellishment of the household. By John R. Mollison. Illustrated with colored plates and wood cuts. 16mo, cloth, gilt, $1.50.

- 3. The Koran. Commonly called the Alkoran of Mohammed. Translated into English from the original Arabic. With explanatory notes taken from the most approved commentators, to which is prefixed a preliminary discourse by George Sale. The Chandos Classics Edition. A verbatim reprint, in the following styles:

The Koran. Stiff Wrapper, 75 cents.

Cloth, gilt, $1.

The Library Edition, with maps and plans, $1.75.

- 4. Tom Hood's Poems. Humorous and Pathetic. Edited, with a memoir, by his sister, Frances Freeling Broderip. Crown 8vo, cloth extra, with photographic portrait, $2.40.

"There is a true comic vein in his comic poems, true pathos in the pathetic, whilst in some of his poems the pathetic and the comic are blended together in the very manner which his father had made his own."—Standard.

"A very satisfactory contribution to light literature."—Sunday Times.

- 5. Lives of the Necromancers; or, An Account of the most Eminent Persons in Successive Ages who have claimed for themselves, or to whom has been imputed by others, the Exercise of Magical Power. By William Godwin.

CONTENTS.—Introduction—Ambitious Nature of Man—Examples of Witchcraft from the Bible—Greece—Rome—Revolution in the History of Necromancy upon the Establishment of Christianity—Necromancy in the East—Dark Ages of Europe—Communication of Europe and the Saracens—Revival of Letters—Sanguinary Proceedings against Witchcraft—Conclusion.

In one neat vol., 16mo, cloth extra, 80 cents.

- 6. The Ancient Life-History of the Earth. A comprehensive outline of the principles and leading facts of Palæontologic Science. By Henry Alleyne Nicholson, Professor of Natural History in the University of St. Andrews, author of "Manual of Zoology," etc., etc. Crown 8vo, cloth, with 270 engravings, $5.25.

- 7. Animal Products. Their Preparation, Commercial Uses, and Value. By P. L. Simmonds. With 121 illustrations. 12mo, cloth (forming the new volume of "Science Hand-Books"), $2.50.

* * While there are very many treatises on Natural History, scientifically arranged, there are few works in which the uses of animals to man, and the important commercial products they furnish, have received prominent attention. The author has long had this extensive subject before him, and believes that a detailed description of the various useful substances furnished by the animal kingdom may be rendered both instructive and interesting.

The previous volumes of this valuable series of "Art and Science Hand-Books" may also be had as follows, viz.:

1. TEXTILE FABRICS. Illustrated. Cloth, $1.
2. IVORIES. Illustrated. Cloth, $1.
3. FURNITURE AND WOOD-WORK. Illustrated. Cloth, $1.
4. MAJOLICA. Illustrated. Cloth, $1.
5. MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS. Illustrated. Cloth, $1.
6. PERSIAN ART. Illustrated. Cloth, 75 cents.
7. MANUAL OF DESIGN. Illustrated. Cloth, $1.
8. THE INDUSTRIAL ARTS. 240 illustrations. Cloth, $1.50.
9. SCIENTIFIC APPARATUS. Cloth, $1.25.
10. FOOD. Some Account of its Sources, Constituents, and Uses. By A. H. Church, M.A., Oxon. Crown 8vo, cloth, $1.
11. CONFERENCES HELD IN CONNECTION WITH THE SPECIAL LOAN COLLECTION OF SCIENTIFIC APPARATUS, 1876. Physics and Mechanics. By W. Spottiswoode, W. Huggins, J. Norman Lockyer, Sir W. Thomson, Prof. Tyndall, Mr. Bosanquet, Mr. De La Rue, Rev. Robert Main, Sir Joseph Whitworth, J. Scott Russell, and others. 12mo, cloth, $2.25.
12. ECONOMIC ENTOMOLOGY. By Andrew Murray. Aptaera. (Spiders, mites, etc.) 12mo, cloth, illustrated, $2.50.
8. Asmodeus; or, The Devil on Two Sticks. By Alain René Le Sage. Translated from the French. Illustrated. 18mo, cloth, 75 cents.
9. Charles Dickens's Works. New cheap edition. Pickwick Papers, Sketches by Boz, Oliver Twist. Each in one vol. 12mo, picture boards, $1 each.

- 10. Jewett (Llewellyn). Half Hours among some English Antiquities. Illustrated with 300 engravings. 12mo, cloth, $2.50.

* * "In preparing this little manual I have endeavored so to popularize the subjects treated upon, in its several chapters, as to prevent them becoming 'dry' or wearisome to the reader. While thus endeavoring to make them acceptable to the younger student, however, my object has been to impart such a tone to the 'half hours' as will make the volume acceptable to those of more matured study, to whom it may, I trust, serve as a text-book for occasional reference."—Author's Introduction.

NOTES IN SEASON.

"FOREIGN CLASSICS for English Readers," the new series suggested by the cordial reception given to the "Ancient Classics for English Readers," and introducing the great writers of Europe in a similar manner, will be published on this side by J. B. Lippincott & Co. The first volume, "Dante," by the general editor, Mrs. Oliphant, will soon be ready, and other volumes by prominent writers will soon follow. "Ariadne," Ouida's new book, will be issued by them this week, as will also "A Family Feud," after the German of Ludwig Harder, translated by Mrs. A. L. Wister.

A NOVEL book is about to be published by J. M. Stoddart & Co., "Red and Blue Light," by Dr. Pancoast. It will be bound in a style to suit the title, blue cover and red lettering, while the letter-press will be of blue, with a red border.

MR. ALCOTT'S "Table Talk," to be published soon by Roberts Brothers, is an attractive compound of delightful talk about authors, especially the old authors who are mentioned with profound respect but rarely read, shrewd observations of nature, and quaint reflections on topics that every body is interested in, and on not a few that lie outside of every-day life, yet serve admirably, by way of leverage, to give one a lift into a region of pure thought. An excellent book for summer reading.

S. BRAINARD'S SONS, Cleveland, O., desire to call attention to the fact that the copyrights of the most famous Bliss songs, such as "Hold the Fort," "What shall the Harvest be?" "Remembered," etc., are owned by them, and were by their permission used in the Moody and Sankey books. The above, as well as many other famous songs by Bliss, will now be found in no other new Sunday-school music-book than "Heavenward" the new book by James R. Murray, of which large sales are reported.

SCRIBNER, ARMSTRONG & Co. issue this week the third series of Mr. Froude's "Short Studies," and Dr. Bushnell's "The Vicarious Sacrifice," in the new edition.

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS issue "Academy Sketches" this week, an interesting volume which should have a sale to art lovers outside of New York. Besides the sketches of a hundred pictures, there are descriptive notes. The cover is very appropriate and attractive.

HARPER & BROS. issue immediately Dr. Philip Schaff's great work on the "Creeds of Christendom," in three large octavo volumes ($15), the first of which is a historical review of doctrinal development, while the second and third are compilations respectively of the Greek and Latin and of the Protestant Evangelical creeds, a work of great importance to all theologians; Prof. Winchell's new book on "Science and Revelation," of course popular in its scope; "Mar's White Witch," in the brown-paper novels; and three more volumes of "Epochs of English History," in the little "Half-Hour Series."

J. R. OSGOOD & Co. evidently mean to supply us with ample information about the "Eastern Question." Last week they published Mr. Bugbee's valuable and already very popular little book with this title; and they have in press, for immediate publication, two similar small volumes bearing on the same general topic. One is "A Brief History of the Turks," translated by Miss Wesselhæft from the German of Dr. Johannes Blochwitz, in which the growth of the Ottoman Empire is traced from its rise to the proclamation of a new constitution this year. It is carefully accurate, as German work is wont to be, yet popular and just now exceedingly interesting. The second book is a similar "Brief History of Russia," from its beginning to the present time, with such details respecting the czars and the growth of the empire, and the events that have led to the present war, as are likely to give it very great popularity. Both these volumes have excellent maps of the countries to which they relate.

PERSONAL NOTES.

M. RENE FOURET, of Hachette et Cie., Paris, pleasantly remembered by our trade as one of the Judges at the Centennial Exhibition, has been made a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor in acknowledgment of his services in that capacity.

MR. J. BISHOP PUTNAM starts for Europe next week.

A NUMBER of commercial travellers start for California together this month. The party includes Henry Reed, of George Routledge & Sons; Samuel Carson, of Lee & Shepard; Samuel Bowling, of Thomas Nelson & Sons; and Albert Cogswell.

The Publishers' Weekly.

MAY 12, 1877.

PUBLISHERS are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, to insure correctness in the final entry.

The trade are invited to send "Communications" to the editor on any topic of interest to the trade, and as to which an interchange of opinion is desirable. Also, matter for "Notes and Queries." Notes from librarians will also be gratefully received.

In case of business changes, notification or card should be immediately sent to this office for entry under "Business Notes." New catalogues issued will also be mentioned when forwarded.

BILLS TO DESTROY THE BOOK TRADE.

THE bill "to provide for the purchase of books for the use of common schools," recently defeated in Ohio, was rightly termed in a circular of protest sent out by Mr. John H. Thomas for the trade, "a bill to destroy the school-book trade in Ohio." This bill was brief, and somewhat indefinite in wording; what it proposed seemed to be neither uniformity nor State supply, but that the State should use its power to oblige publishers to contract at low prices for the supply of individual boards of education. It was an application of the Granger idea to the purchase of books, the State taking the place of the Granger organization.

There are two strong practical objections to this State book business, which are made especially evident in the last Ohio bill. In the first place, it interferes with the right of the citizens of the State. "Why not as well appoint a commission to buy pantaloons for all the school-boys?" asked an Illinois legislator, and if this query in one sense begs the question, in another it shows strikingly how dangerous is the intervention of the State in commercial matters. But, in the second place—and this concerns not simply booksellers, but every tax-payer—the cost of the middleman is not dispensed with. You may take away his profit, and pay instead the jobbery fees of State-managed business, but the cost remains. The Ohio bill very frankly acknowledged this in providing that boards of education "shall provide for the procuring, safe keeping, and sale of said books to persons requiring the same, at cost, not adding to the first cost of the books any subsequent charges or procuring or distributing." The cost of all this must come out of the pockets of the tax-payers. And this cost is considerable, for if a county officer is to do booksellers' work, he must have paid help to do some of the other work he has previously done. No governmental system yet devised has been able to get work done for nothing.

The motive for these bills has doubtless come originally from the Granger feeling (in Wisconsin, for one instance, voiced in a recommendation made by the State Grange to the Legislature), taken advantage of and worked out by interested parties, crying "ring" against the publishers for the sake of an actual and abominable "ring" of their own. The Wisconsin Journal of Education for April contains a remarkable article by the State Superintendent, Mr. Edward Searing, showing clearly that the Wisconsin bill, in which David Atwood, editor of the State Journal, was named as contractor, was gotten up by a combination of the Madison newspaper printers, who wanted "State pap" to support their newspapers. Educators have so universally opposed these text-book bills that most of them have already been disposed of, with the exception of such as that which has passed the New York House this week, aimed solely against too frequent change, and satisfactory to most publishers. In the one State where a contract bill passed, nothing seems to have recently been heard from the contractor, Mr. Merrill. The State Superintendent, in a recent circular, has announced that county authorities need not make requisition until the publications to be furnished by the contractor shall have been announced, which prevents Mr. Merrill from obtaining advance orders, which he might sell out in a lump to some eager publisher. Meanwhile, several districts have made contracts direct. As a practical matter, little has come of the text-book bills except the change of front involved in the disruption of the Board of Trade, shown chiefly in the abandonment of retail prices. And this, as we have many times said, was not a ring to keep up prices, but a combination to keep down corruption.

NEARLY every school-book house has now issued price-lists on the new basis, variously called "reduced," "trade list," "wholesale," and "net" prices. In most of these the change is chiefly, as noted above, an abandonment of retail prices, and affects but slightly State or other boards buying directly, who never paid the retail prices quoted by log-rolling legislators. In some cases there are slight actual reductions, running through introduction and exchange rates, but we have already shown that the margin for a reduction of publishers' prices is very small. The new basis is chiefly significant as promotive of direct dealings between the publishers and the schools, and is hardest on the retailers, who will find difficulty in obtaining a sufficient advance on these "trade-list prices," which admit of but slight further discount to the trade, to enable them to keep the usual supply of school-books in stock. These prices indeed are likely to become virtually the retail prices, as they are generally made public to all interested as the prices "at our store," or at which books will be sent, with an added charge for postage which will not prevent the list prices being the quoted prices. The supplement of Harper's Weekly for May 12th, for instance, gives two full pages to the "reduced prices" of the Harper stock, and at the other houses the "trade list" is the only list made. The practical effect on the retail trade seems likely to be that they must fill orders at the "trade-list" rate, adding a reasonable percentage on such single copies sold as they may be justified in keeping in stock. In answer to numerous inquiries, from publishers and dealers, as to the shape our Educational Catalogue will assume under present circumstances, we desire to state that we see no other possible plan than to give these "trade-list prices," with a prefatory note explaining the propriety of a reasonable percentage additional to the retailer for handling and forwarding. The Educational Catalogue has been found so valuable to the trade and to schools that its continuance is recognized as a necessity, and it will be still more needful if the retail trade must confine itself chiefly to filling catalogue orders. But we recognize that we are in the same difficulty as the retail trade, with no satisfactory basis on which to name prices or from which to pay for the labor involved.

THE Permanent Exhibition at Philadelphia is now open, but unfortunately the book trade is represented, with a few exceptions, only by Philadelphia publishers. The rest of the trade, we presume, saw no money in it, and their patriotism had been nearly exhausted by the results of the Centennial itself. If the Permanent Exhibition proves a success, we trust the book display may be made more general. As to the Paris Exposition, no government aid toward an American representation can now be expected until the extra session in October. This is the chief reason for dissatisfaction at the postponement of the session, which is otherwise extremely satisfactory to business men. The French authorities decline utterly to receive any applications for space or to transact any business with foreign applicants except through governmental representatives, so that there is practically a deadlock as to America.

The only thing to be done is to press forward preparations, in the trust that Congress will take the necessary steps in the fall. Now that the $1,500,000 loan has been refunded by the Centennial authorities, it is probable that there will be a government appropriation, and that a government vessel will transport goods free. We are glad to note that the authorities of the Permanent Exhibition are moving in the matter, and they will receive applications for space at Paris, with a view to Congressional action. The cost will be nominal, as their interest is simply in bringing forward the importance of their own work. We are glad, also, to note that Mr. John R. Elliott, formerly of the Claxton house, is moving actively for a representation of the American book trade by a collective display, which would cost little to individual exhibitors, and we commend his efforts to the attention of the trade.

THE PERMANENT EXHIBITION.

PHILADELPHIA, May 8, 1877.

By the time this letter is published the International Exhibition of 1877 will be in full operation. Of the numerous displays made therein, none will attract more attention or elicit more admiration than the excellent display made by the book trade. It is creditable to the Exhibition and creditable to the ones who make it. The space the department now occupies is nearly triple that of the former exhibition. It faces the main nave, and has large avenues on all sides, which gives the greatest opportunity for display; perhaps the mere mention of the fact that it occupies most of the space formerly given to Great Britain will suffice for the description of locality to many of our readers.

Most of the exhibitors have seized the opportunity afforded them by the possession of plenty of space, to spread themselves over as much of it as possible. This affords great advantage, for it is now possible to view an exhibit from all sides. The exhibits are placed in regular rows, running from east to west. There being no second story as of old, no going up stairs, it follows that all are placed on an equal footing. That portion which formed the second story of the former structure makes an extremely pretty and striking display, on account of their oddity and diversity, there being nothing like them throughout the whole exhibition. The handsome cases that were on the first floor are hardly recognizable, so much were they hidden and cramped, and so much of their beauty lost. But now they show to their full advantage, especially the handsome showcases of E. Steiger, Porter & Coates, Harding, Holman, American Sunday-School Union, Presbyterian Board, etc. The most noticeable are those of Messrs. J. B. Lippincott & Co. and Gebbie & Barrie. The former is too well known to need more than mere mention; the last-named firm is in possession of Mr. Punch's house, that was so prominent a feature at the Centennial.

Most of the exhibitors are confined to Philadelphia publishers, which is much to be regretted. Not but that they are able to make an excellent display, but because the exhibit would have been much more satisfactory. Of all the trades exhibiting, this is about the only one confined solely to those who reside in this city. They come from all parts of the Union—indeed, of the world.

On visiting the old locality, at the extreme eastern end of the building, to look upon the spot where once stood the greatest feature of the Centennial (?), we could with the greatest difficulty repress our emotions while gazing upon all that was left of it. All that two-story property situate, etc., etc., that belonged to the book trade at large, and which cost so much anxiety and worryment of mind to devise, has a wofully desolate appearance—a mere wreck of its former glory. But two familiar signs are now to be seen beside the frame-work, the monogram A. B. T. A. and the ice-cooler. What a mission that same cooler has fulfilled! This noble edifice has now passed into other hands, cooler and all. The Exhibition Company have purchased it, and it would seem that they have not as yet devised a plan for its use.

The book exhibit is, and will be, taken good care of, it being under the charge and watchful eye of the genial Mr. Farley, who so well performed the same duties at the Centennial.

COMMUNICATIONS.

A CARD.

NEW YORK, May 5, 1877.

To the Editor of the Publishers' Weekly:

An announcement having been made last month that I had become a member of the firm of Henry L. Hinton & Co., I desire to notify my friends and the book trade generally that the said Hinton not having adhered to the arrangements for partnership originally agreed upon between us, I have this day severed all business connections with him, and have no interest whatsoever in a paper called the Library Table.

My present address is 744 Broadway.

RICHARD BRINCKERHOFF.

BOOK NOTICES.

THE CRUISE OF HER MAJESTY'S SHIP CHALLENGER, by W. J. J. Spry, R.N. (Harper.) The "Challenger" was placed in commission at Sheerness, on the 15th of November, 1872, for the purpose of proceeding upon a voyage of scientific discovery and deep-sea exploration in the Atlantic, Indian, and Pacific Oceans; descending into the Southern or Antarctic Ocean as far as the ice would permit. Captain Spry's work is not designed to bring before the public the scientific results of the expedition, it is simply an entertaining book of travel, of out-of-the-way places and people, described in a very entertaining manner. The valuable additions obtained to our knowledge of submarine topography are of course alluded to in a general way, a full history of them being already in the way of preparation by another author. To those who want to know all the surface incidents of the voyage, no more amusing work could be recommended. With map and illustrations, 8vo, cloth, $2.

JULIET'S GUARDIAN, by Mrs. H. Lovett Cameron. (Harper.) It seems almost impossible to specially characterize the many society novels we get from the other side. They almost all ring the changes upon the same subject, love, and seem to reproduce pretty much the same characters, or slight variations of them. The present one is by a new writer, and tells of a young girl who, loving her guardian, is through the falseness of her step-mother led into marrying a man she has neither affection nor respect for. The book is very readable, the interest being sustained throughout. 8vo, paper, 50 cents.

JOANNA'S INHERITANCE, by Emma Marshall. (Dutton.) The story of a young girl who, losing her only surviving relative, goes to live in the house of her guardian, who is a doctor and a widower with a large family of unruly children. Joanna's grandmother has left her a large estate, which she is only to enjoy when of age, being educated in the mean time in the plainest manner. The book records her life in the doctor's family, and all the hopes, fears, and disappointments which naturally fall to a young girl's lot who is proud and sensitive. A pretty love story increases the interest, and makes a very nice ending to Joanna's troubles. Like Mrs. Marshall's other books, much good advice and moral instruction may be derived from it. 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

THE EASTERN QUESTION, by James M. Bugbee. (Osgood.) This little book will be found very acceptable to many readers; it gives a historical résumé of the Eastern Question, now agitating the public mind, in a succinct and extremely clear manner. The book is supplemented by two large maps, one of Europe and another of Russia and Turkey, showing the present seat of war, with statements relative to the governments and industries of Russia and Turkey, an account of the treaties made between Russia and the United States, the international rules for the government of neutrals, and the legations in the United States, Russia, and Turkey. 16mo, cloth, 50 cents.

HAND-BOOK OF POPULAR QUOTATIONS. (Carleton.) This book is divided into three parts, namely: "Popular English Quotations," "Analytical Index," and "Quotations in Foreign Languages." The first part is full of interest, being made up of the innumerable sayings and quotations which float about in talk and print, and which some one is almost always puzzled to localize. The "Index" is very useful, and very thoroughly done, while the foreign quotations complete the work as a volume of reference. It is well printed and cleverly arranged. 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

THE LAND-BIRDS AND GAME-BIRDS OF NEW ENGLAND, by H. D. Minot. (Naturalists' Agency.) The design of the author in getting up this work was to offer an inexpensive, trustworthy, and original volume which should fill a place hitherto vacant in ornithological literature. As much of the work is the result of personal observation of the habits of birds, it is more than ordinarily interesting, and admirably adapted for engaging and instructing young people in the study of birds. The descriptions of the birds, their nests and eggs, their habits and notes, are written in a popular vein, and illustrated by sketches in the text. 8vo, cloth, $3.

THE AMERICAN, by Henry James, Jr. (Os-good.) Mr. James' novel is one to read slowly and enjoy every word of. It has only a thread of a plot, but is rich in analysis of character, and clever insights into people, and bright paragraphs about matters and things generally. Its hero is a business man, not very young or very cultured, who, having made a fortune in America, goes to Paris to spend it and enjoy himself as he may. The people he meets and his numerous adventures are described in a graphic and vivid manner. Mr. James' style is the special charm in his works; it is refined, original, and full of a quiet humor. This story has been running through the Atlantic. 12mo, cloth, $2.

A TEXT-BOOK OF HARMONY, by Charles E. Horsley. (Harper.) Mr. C. E. Horsley, himself an accomplished musician and the son of an eminent English musician, Mr. William Horsley, was born in London in 1822, and died in 1876. He has embodied in this volume a great deal of theoretical knowledge he possessed on the subject of harmony, in a simple and popular form from which every one studying music may derive instruction. The work is a thoroughly practical one for the use of schools, dealing only with the art of composition. 12mo, cloth.

A MANUAL OF ENGLISH HISTORY, by Edward M. Lancaster. (Barnes.) This manual has been prepared for those schools which cannot afford the time for an extended course of history. The essential facts of English history will be found in it, arranged in a very clear and brief way. The work is substantially gotten up. 12mo, cloth, $1.40.

PROPERTIES AND POWERS IN EVERY-DAY MATTERS, by A. Corey. (Dennis & Co.) This book is intended to convey information to children and amuse them at the same time. It is all about the properties of matter—cohesion, divisibility, inertia, hardness, elasticity, ductility, tenacity, etc., and the mechanical powers, as the lever, pulley, wedge, etc. There is also a part devoted to chemical attraction, etc., designed to interest young people in the art and practice of cooking. The entire book is written in a very attractive way, and is very fully illustrated in the text, besides having six full-page pictures. 4to, cloth, $2.

STATIONERY NOTES.

FRANCIS & LOUTREL, 45 Maiden Lane, New York, issue the following caution: "In calling attention to Francis & Loutrel's Unalterable Checks, we desire to caution the public against those parties who are in the habit of manufacturing slips in imitation of an editorial article cut from some newspaper. These slips contain gross misrepresentations, and are issued to mislead the public. Some of these parties are going from door to door with false statements that our checks can or have been altered. These statements are made to deceive the public, in order that they may peddle some so-called preventive against raising checks."

ALFRED & HOUGH, New York, are just getting out a decidedly novel papeterie, quite different from any before in the market. Instead of the envelopes being folded in the ordinary way and laid down in the box, they are folded very fat, so that the two packs, standing on the side, fill the entire box. This makes one of the handsomest papeteries yet produced, and, with the price they are selling them for, must become very popular. Samples on application.

L. WOLF & Co., formerly of 54 Maiden Lane, have removed to 503 and 505 Broadway, two doors below the St. Nicholas Hotel, where they have much greater facilities and are easy of access to both resident and out-of-town buyers. They have added many new and elegant styles to their fine line of leather goods, pocketbooks, etc.

THE extensive use made of their silver and gilt edged cards for correspondence has induced Chamberlin, Whitmore & Co. to add to their other styles several bearing the days of the week stamped in English or French. Put up as they are in papeterie form, these boxes make an attractive article, the designs being in good taste and the execution neat.

ROBERT D. PATTERSON & Co., St. Louis, Mo., have just issued a new illustrated catalogue of stationery, blank-books, etc., to the trade, comprising ninety-two pages in half-bound morocco, which will be found very complete, and of great help to small dealers in ordering their goods. Its get-up is very neat and creditable to the enterprising firm.

MR. ALFRED HOPCRAFT, long and favorably known in the stationery trade, has changed his base and is taking orders for metal signs for the Hope Metal Sign Co.

IN our issue of the 5th instant (page 497), the cut of the lap tablet was placed by the printers upside down. The clip should be shown at the top.

JOHN C. PARKER, of Washington, D. C., has been in town looking up novelties and making some purchases.

PHINEAS LAWRENCE, of B. & P. Lawrence, New York, sailed for Europe on Wednesday, 9th inst.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

WE have to acknowledge the receipt of two important works of reference, "George P. Rowell & Co.'s American Newspaper Directory for 1877," and "Pettengill's Newspaper Directory and Advertiser's Hand-Book for 1877." They are both works well known to the trade, neither exhibiting in the new editions any marked changes over past years. Rowell notes a decrease of 190 periodicals since their last issue, the total number recorded by them last year being 8617; while this year they have only 8427 on their list. Pettengill records about the same number of papers, though his work is by no means as voluminous as the former. The latter is illustrated by a several good steel engravings of representative New York editors, and inside views of Pettengill's establishment.

Woman's Words, "an original review of what the sex is doing," is the title of a new monthly paper of sixteen pages just started in Philadelphia by Mrs. Juan Lewis. Subscription per annum, $1.

BUSINESS NOTES.

BOSTON, MASS.—Jas. Campbell, publisher and bookseller, has removed from 18 Tremont street to 17 Franklin street.

CINCINNATI, O.—John P. Walsh, publisher, has removed to 2 W. Sycamore street.

FAIRBAULT, MINN.—The firm of Wilson & Bro., booksellers, etc., has been dissolved. They have been succeeded by Wilson & Smith.

INDEPENDENCE, KAN.—James Tully has sold out his book and stationery business to Otis & Guernsey.

NEW ORLEANS, LA.—James A. Gresham, bookseller and stationer, New Orleans, La., has taken Mr. Hansel into partnership, and the firm will hereafter be known as Gresham & Hansel.

NEW YORK CITY.—Mr. W. T. Comstock, formerly of Comstock & Cline, map publishers, has been admitted to the firm of A. J. Bicknell & Co., architectural book publishers and dealers in drawing instruments, artists materials, etc., 27 Warren street. Mr. Comstock is to have personal charge of the subscription department of their business.

NEW YORK CITY.—J. Evans, importer of rare, valuable, and scarce books, has removed from Brooklyn to 21 Park Row, New York.

NEW YORK CITY.—Jas. L. Hastie, bookseller and stationer, has removed from 1237 to 1243 Broadway.

NEW YORK CITY.—P. M. Haverty, Catholic publisher and bookseller, has removed from 9 to 27 Barclay street.

NEW YORK CITY.—Peck & Snyder, dealers in base-ball and sporting goods, have removed from 126 to 124 Nassau street.

NEW YORK CITY.—Thomson Bros., booksellers and stationers, 1107 Broadway, have given up business.

NEW YORK CITY.—University Publishing Company has removed from 155 and 157 Crosby street to 19 Murray street.

ORANGE, N. J.—H. B. Thistle, of the firm of Ingalls & Co., Newark, N. J., has established a book and stationery business in the store in the post-office, formerly occupied by James Young, who has gone out of the business.

PAOLA, KAN.—B. D. Russell has succeeded to the book and stationery business of H. M. McLachlin.

ST. PAUL, MINN.—T. S. White & Co. have been succeeded by White, Stone & Co., Mr. Lane K. Stone, formerly special partner of the firm, having obtained an active interest in the same.

SEAFORTH, ONT.—C. W. Papst has purchased the book and stationery business formerly conducted by Wm. Elliot.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

THE thoughtful monograph of Mr. R. S. Dugdale, entitled "The Jukes; or, A Study in Crime, Pauperism, and Heredity," attracted, as it deserved, wide attention, and the whole letterpress edition was exhausted in a fortnight. The work has now been revised, and in parts wholly rewritten, and important material has been added to it, and it will shortly be published in book form. The care and discrimination shown by Mr. Dugdale in the collection of his suggestive statistics, and the importance of his own considerations and inferences from these will give his work a permanent value as well for those interested in statistics and in social reform as for the whole tax-paying public. G. P. Putnam's Sons have also just added to their list of publications for the State Charities Aid Association, "A Handbook for Hospital Visitors," and a "Handbook for Visitors to the Poorhouse."

MM. FIRMIN DIDOT & CIE. are to issue shortly a series of engravings under the title of Restaurations des Monuments Antiques, from the drawings prepared and sent to Paris annually by the pensionnaires of the Académie des Beaux-Arts under the name of Envois de Rome. These drawings are merely restorations of classic buildings, and contain different restorations of the Parthenon, the Erectheum, and the temples of Theseus, of Minerva, and other Grecian buildings; and likewise of the Pantheon, Arch of Titus, Colosseum, Tomb of C. Metella, the Trajan Forum, the Trajan Column, the Baths of Diocletian, the temples of Vesta, Mars, Jupiter Stator, Antoninus, Peace, Venus, etc., at Rome; as well as restorations of remains found in Magna Græcia and in Asia Minor.

LEE & SHEPARD have just issued several new books of travel and adventure for the young people. "Out West," by Oliver Optic, is the second volume of "The Great Western Series;" "Ben Blinker," by Daniel Wise, belongs to the "Winwood Cliff Series." These are both works whose authors are well known, the works being admirably adapted for the amusement and instruction of boys and girls. They have also added to their publications a favorite book formerly on the list of Osgood & Co. "Adventures in the Wilderness, or Camp Life in the Adirondacks," by W. H. H. Murray, of which they have issued a new edition.

UNDER the title of "Moody's Talks on Temperance," the National Temperance Society will publish immediately the sermons of D. L. Moody, on temperance, in the Boston Tabernacle, together with the thrilling incidents and anecdotes connected with the wonderful temperance work in that city, compiled and edited by Rev. Mr. Dunn, who has been an eye-witness of and participator in these meetings and labors. The book will contain about two hundred and fifty pages, and will be embellished with a fine steel engraving of Mr. Moody.

MESSRS. GINN & HEATH have procured a patent for the Fitz Globe in England, Belgium, and France, and will establish manufacturing agencies for them in those countries. This globe is one of the triumphs of inventive genius, and teachers and school officers are recognizing its excellences in the most practical method by introducing it into their schools.

MR. W. A. GOODYEAR's work on "The Coal Mines of the Western Coast of the United States," previously spoken of, is now in course of publication by A. L. Bancroft & Co., San Francisco.

It should be noted that H. O. Houghton &

Co. reduce the price of the current Massachusetts Reports to $4.50 retail, and offer the thirty volumes from Allen IX. to Mass. CXX., inclusive, in complete sets, at the rate of $3.50 a volume, or $105 for the set, retail.

A NEW volume by Rev. Dr. Ray Palmer, "Hints on the Formation of Religious Opinion," will shortly be published by A. S. Barnes & Co.

WHITNEY'S "Essentials of English Grammar" has had an unprecedented success. Already the fourth thousand is on the market, and the demand is still large—a very remarkable fact, considering that the school year is so near its close.

THE new firm of Van Antwerp, Bragg & Co., successors to Wilson, Hinkle & Co., send out a new list with reduced prices, under date of May 10th. It is especially to be noted that the terms and discounts to the trade will be the same as heretofore.

A PRESS dispatch from Washington states that the attention of the Post-Office Department has been called to the fact that certain publishers of periodicals make it a practice to send out under cover of their publications advertisements printed separately (sometimes on paper of different size, and not even attached to the periodicals), the effect being to save the difference between the rates of postage for magazines and those for circulars. The Post-master General holds that this practice is an evasion of the laws.

THE highest Canadian court has decided against the Canadian publishers who undertook to republish English books in disregard of the Imperial copyright law. Mr. Smiles' "Thrift" was the book in question, and Messrs. Belford Brothers' appeal was dismissed with costs.

JANSEN, MCCLURG & Co., of Chicago, announce for early publication a story about life insurance, under the taking title of "Brief Honors: a Romance of the Great Dividable." It is to be uniform with the "Jericho Road," and to form a second volume in a "Jericho Series," and it is expected to equal that book in attracting public attention.

SEEMAN'S Mythology, a German work treating of the Greek and Roman myths with special reference to their use in art, will shortly be published in translation by G. H. Bianchi, by Harper & Brothers.

COL. GEO. WARD NICHOLS, now of Cincinnati, well known for his literary work, and as one of the judges in art at the Centennial, has written a book on "Art Education as applied to Industry," which promises to prove an important help to American progress in this direction. It will be published by Harper & Brothers, with many and fine illustrations.

MR. WICKHAM HOFFMAN, an Assistant Adjutant-General during our war, and afterward connected with the American Legation at Paris during the siege, will shortly publish, through Harper & Brothers, his reminiscences of his stirring experiences under the title of "Camp, Court, and Siege."

ROOT'S "Model Organ Method," published by John Church & Co., Cincinnati, has been reduced from $1.88 to $1.67 to the trade. It is claimed to be by far the best organ book published.

THE editorial charge of Davies' Mathematical Course (Barnes) has been placed in the hands of Prof. William G. Peck, who was associated with Prof. Davies for many years in the work of preparing and revising mathematical textbooks.

T. B. PETERSON & BROS. have just added "My Son's Wife," a very excellent English society novel, by the author of "Caste," to their "Dollar Series of Good Novels;" and issued in cloth "The Wife's Trials," by Miss Julia Pardoe.

HARPER & BROTHERS have just published the "Annual Record of Science and Industry for 1876," edited by Spencer F. Baird, containing a popular account of the more important facts of progress in the various departments of the physical and natural sciences of the past year.

S. C. GRIGGS & Co. have a new edition in paper of that charming child's story, "What Tommy Did," by Emily Huntington Miller.

HARPER & BROTHERS have just issued two volumes of their little "Half-Hour Series." They embrace two of the "Epochs of English History"—namely, "Early England," by Frederick York-Powell, and "England a Continental Power," by Louise Creighton.

A. S. BARNES & Co. have just published "Atlas Essays, No. 2," a volume which embraces a number of biographical and critical essays from the International Review.

"LADY LEONORA, or the Father's Curse," by Carrie Conklin, is the title of a new novel, well known to the readers of the New York Weekly, that G. W. Carleton & Co. have added to their "New York Weekly Series."

"THE Brewer's Fortune," by Mary Dwinell Chellis, published by the National Temperance Society, is a book for young people's reading, dwelling, like all the other numerous and excellent publications of this house, upon the vice of intemperance.

REV. PHILLIPS BROOKS' "Lectures on Preaching," delivered to the students of the Theological Seminary in New Haven, last winter, on the Lyman Beecher Foundation, are in press by E. P. Dutton & Co. for early autumn publication.

Two volumes of Joseph Cook's "Monday Lectures," entitled respectively "Biology" and "Transcendentalism," will be published next fall by Jas. R. Osgood & Co., and later, possibly, a third, comprising a selection from the "preludes" to the lectures.

THE fifth and concluding volume of Landor's "Imaginary Conversations" will contain a full index to the series.

FRANK BEARD, the artist, is said to be getting up a book on the use of the blackboard in Sunday-schools.

PRESIDENT MCLEAN's history of Princeton College will make two goodly octavos, which the Lippincotts will publish.

C. W. BARDEEN & Co. have just published an entirely new edition, interleaved, and from new plates, of "The Regents' Questions, 1866-1877," compiled by Daniel J. Pratt, A.M.

MR. D.H. HOPKINSON of the Jewelers' Circular, 42 Nassau street, has issued in book form a number of practical articles of interest to watchmakers, which formed at one time an attraction of his paper. The volume is entitled "A Practical Treatise on the Balance Spring," by "Excelsior."

A. J. BICKNELL & Co. have just issued a second edition of "Draughtsman's Alphabets," a series of plain and ornamental alphabets designed expressly for engineers, architects, engravers, etc., by Hermann Esser.
